Mubarak Awad and Spencer Graves lead an event on "Ending the cycle of violence in Israel/Palestine"

Mubarak is Palestinian, born in Jerusalem in 1943. He has a PhD in psychology and US citizenship. In 1983 he founded the Palestinian Centre for the Study of Nonviolence in Jerusalem. He was expelled by Israel in 1988 for organizing nonviolent civil disobedience in the First Intifada. The next year he founded Nonviolence International, which "advocates for active nonviolence and supports creative constructive nonviolent campaigns worldwide."

Spencer was raised on a farm in Kansas and spent 6 years in the US Air Force during the Vietnam War. He has a PhD in statistics and has studied the research literature in many fields, concluding that progress on every issue he's studied is blocked, because every countermeasure threatens someone with substantive control over the media.

Donations requested. Net proceeds will go to the Palestinian American Medical Association (PAMA) for humanitarian aid. Contributions may be made through the "donate" button on the ourfcm.org website, or by mailing a check to "Friends of Community Media", 3707 Pennsylvania Ave, KC, MO 64111.
